

Seasonal workers wanted for field and harvest work

SECOBRA Saatzucht GmbH is a medium-sized breeding company that focuses on barley and wheat (summer and winter forms). In 2017, we also started breeding winter triticale. Since 2018, the developed varieties have been marketed through our own sales team. The company is part of the French company SECOBRA Recherches S.A., which is based in Maule (Yvelines, France). SECOBRA Saatzucht GmbH is based in Feldkirchen near Moosburg (Bavaria) and Hörstmar near Lemgo (North Rhine-Westphalia). While the site in Lemgo mainly breeds spring malting barley, six-row winter barley and feed wheat, the site in Feldkirchen is specialised in the market segments of two-row winter barley, quality wheat and spring wheat. In recent years, SECOBRA Saatzucht GmbH has expanded its portfolio of cereal varieties for the Central and Eastern European market, both in the conventional and organic sectors, and is now able to provide the agricultural sector with varieties in all quality segments and for a wide range of growing conditions.

Start date: Mid-July 2026, possibly earlier

Location: Feldkirchen near Moosburg an der Isar (Germany)
