

Internship Announcement:

Recreation Interviewer in US National Forests

- Job Title: Field Interviewer: National Visitor Use Monitoring Program
- Description: Conducting face-to-face interviews with visitors at various recreation sites in National Forests in the United States of America.
- Location: Gifford Pinchot National Forest- Washington
Columbia River Gorge National Scenic Area
Mt. Hood National Forest- Oregon
Siuslaw National Forest- Oregon
- Dates (Approximate): July 25 – October 8, 2016 (Must be at WVU Campus in Morgantown, WV for processing before heading to Portland, OR.)
- Employer Info: West Virginia University School of Natural Resources
- Stipend: $360 USD per week
- Amenities: The following items will be provided free of charge: Rental car, gas card for work purposes ONLY and housing.
Flight to and from the US is NOT provided!
- Hours: 8-10 hour days/approx. 4-5 days per week/ 30-40 hours per week
- Experience: Excellent people skills, ability to read maps, competent driving skills, detail oriented, internet and email access, and able to work without direct supervisor supervision.
- Requirements: Must be at least 20 years of age. Responsible individual; independent personality; maintain a polite, courteous and friendly demeanor. Willingness and ability to drive long distances. Willingness to drive to remote locations over a variety of road surfaces. Willingness to work in all weather conditions. Mastery in written and oral communication. Ability to conduct interviews with National Forest visitors. Ability and willingness to coordinate with your supervisor on a daily basis.
- Application Process: Application for a J-1 Visa (student exchange visa) is necessary for program participation. WVU requires proof of a minimum of $2,000 USD in a bank account before processing the application and issuing the necessary forms for the visa.
- Contact Information: If interested please email your resume and cover letter to Katharina Brede at: kabrede@mix.wvu.edu. Please indicate in the subject line: “Last name- NVUM 2016”