TCA PROGRAMME

TCA programme:

TCA DESCRIPTION

- Themes and goals: The Brexit Scenario, the war in Ukraine as well as recent developments in internationalization in several countries have shown that the perception of mutual exchange and mobility as well as joint project cooperation within Europe currently undergo substantive changes. Longstanding cooperation partners and traditional mobility flows have to be complemented with new partners and a new vision about European cooperation. A huge potential for this lies in the cooperation with Southeast European partners. In terms of exploring new concepts of mobility cooperation, not only in- and outbound flows will be taken into consideration but also intra-regional flows as well as blended mobility formats. By figuring out new ways and types of cooperation with Southeast European countries, linguistic, socioeconomic and political difficulties, which impeded the progress of fostering intra-regional cooperation and created obstacles for Southeast European students to go abroad so far will be addressed. By taking into account already existing partnerships between Southeast European countries in the field of higher education (mobility and project cooperation) we make use of synergies and pre-existing knowledge in this field.
- Expected results: This contact seminar would like to give interested stakeholders from European higher education institutions the chance to explore new ways, new topics and new forms of cooperation with Southeastern European countries. First, the focus will lie on creating an enhanced understanding of potential problems, which impeded the fostering of international and intra-regional partnerships so far. Second, networking will be on the agenda to help participants to explore marketing opportunities for the 'recruitment' of Southeast European partners and to discern certain potential fields of cooperation for the establishment of new forms of partnerships and projects.
- Additional information: The target group is interested staff from European higher education institutions who would like to expand their cooperation with and between Southeast European countries: staff from International Offices/ internationalization officers Erasmus+ coordinators for mobility KA1 project coordinators (from faculties) of Erasmus+ KA2 or KA3 as well as potential applicants/ newcomers
