Dear colleagues,
Dear Japan community,

Next year's EXPO in Osaka, Japan will be held under the title
‘Designing Future Society for Our Lives’.

Austria wants to present itself not only as a cultural and touristic destination, but also as a future orientated, innovative business, investment and research location. Therefore, scientific institutions from all over Austria were invited to showcase research collaborations and projects that have been developed in cooperation with Japan.

During a meeting at the BMAW, the idea took raise to increase the visibility of Japan-related activities in research within Austria and to connect the relevant institutions and individuals with each other.

In this context, TU Wien cordially invites you to the ‘Japanese Science Day’ on Saturday, October 5th 2024. The event will be implemented in cooperation with the Department of Japanese Studies of the University of Vienna (Japanese Studies Alumni Network / JAN), which is organizing an ‘Aki-matsuri’ (Japanese autumn festival) on the same day.

The event will provide an opportunity to display the wide range and high quality of scientific cooperation between Austria and Japan, to network and to learn from each other.
