

Are you looking for a book whose title and author you know?

e.g. by a reference in a bibliography like this one here:

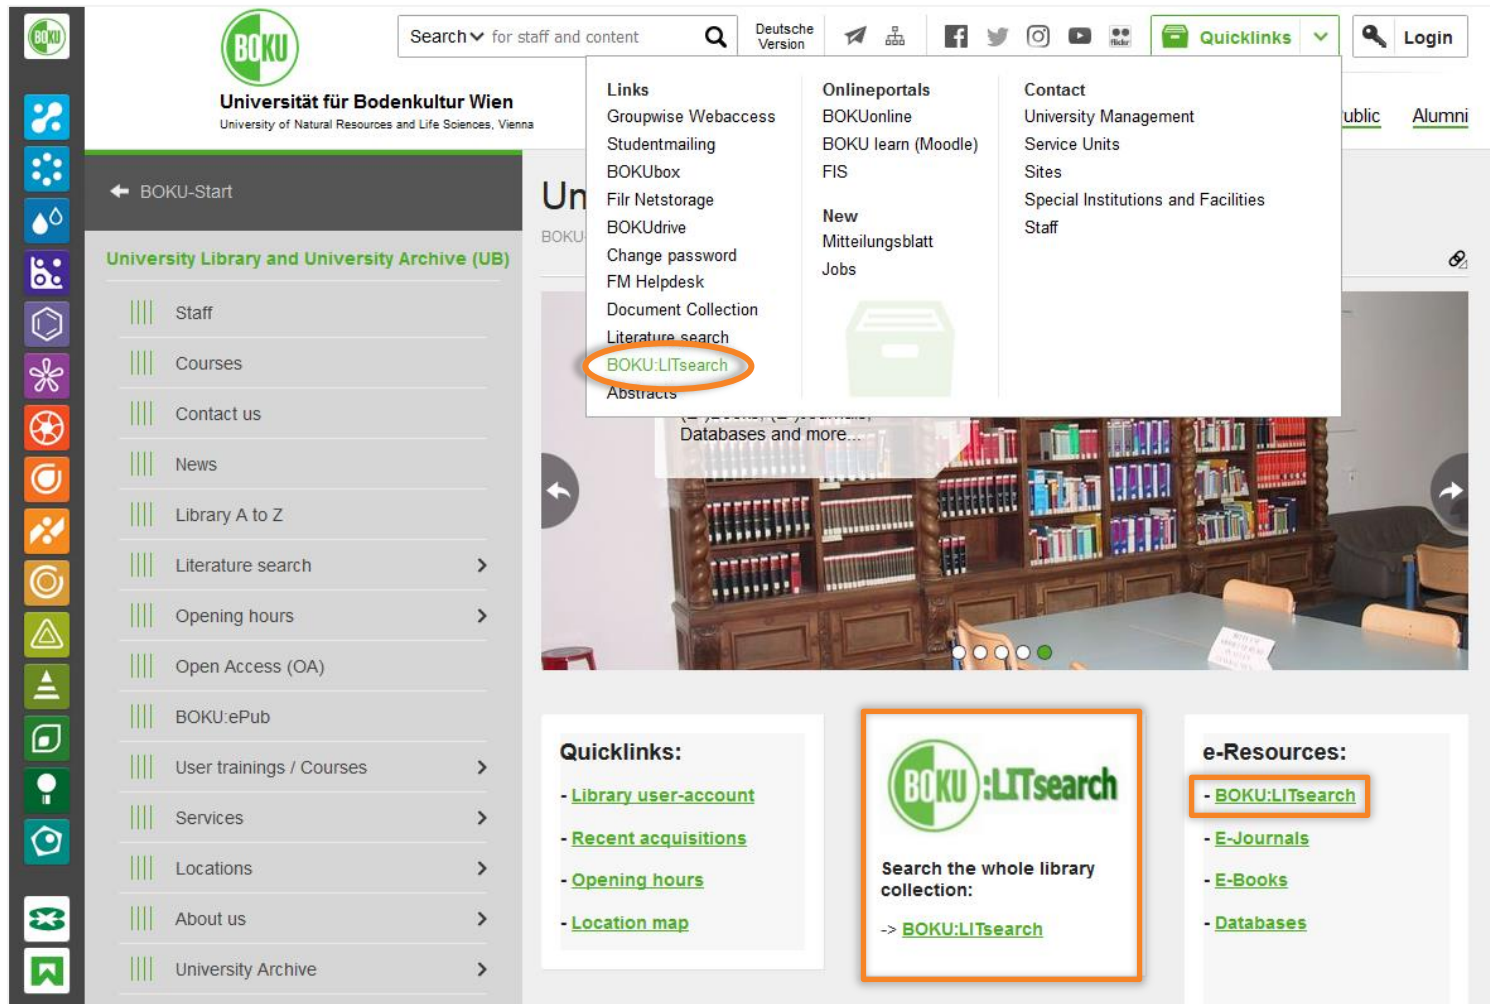

LIČKA, Lilli; GRIMM, Karl (Eds.) (2015): Nextland: zeitgenössische Landschaftsarchitektur in Österreich. / Contemporary landscape architecture in Austria. Basel: Birkhäuser.

If so, then...

... open the literature search engine BOKU:LITsearch via the BOKU-quicklinks or the library homepage.

Switch to the advanced search.

Type the author's surname as well as one or two words from the book's title (in random order) into the corresponding search fields.

The screenshot displays the ULL search interface. At the top, a green header bar contains the ULL logo, a search icon, and the text "Basic search". To the right of the header are links for "Bibliothekskonto", "Fernleihe", "Zeitschriftensuche", "Citation Linker", "Feedback", and "Help". Below the header, the search area is divided into several sections. The top section contains two search fields: "Author" with a dropdown arrow and "licka" entered, and "Title" with a dropdown arrow and "nextland" entered. These fields are enclosed in an orange box. Below the search fields are filters for "Publication date" (Last 12 months, 3 years, 5 years) and "Fewer search options >". The "Content type" section has a "click to search" button and a list of options: "Any Type" (checked), "Archival Material", "Audio Recording", and "Book / eBook". The "Discipline" section also has a "click to search" button and a list of options: "Any Type" (checked), "agriculture", "anatomy & physiology", and "anthropology". The "Language" section has a dropdown menu. The "Limit to" section has a list of options: "Scholarly materials, including peer-reviewed", "Peer reviewed publications", "Items with full text online", "Items in the library catalog", and "Open Access items only". The "Exclude from results" section has a list of options: "Newspaper articles", "Book Reviews", and "Dissertations". The "Expand your results" section has a list of options: "Include results from outside your library's collection". At the bottom, there is a "Search" button (highlighted with an orange box and an arrow) and a "Clear Form" link. A "Basic search" link is also present at the bottom right.

On the left side, there is a sidebar with various filters: 'REFINE YOUR SEARCH' (Full Text Online, Scholarly & Peer-Review, Open Access, Library Catalog), 'CONTENT TYPE', 'PUBLICATION DATE' (with a date range selector showing 'from' and 'to' fields, and options for 'Last 12 Months', 'Last 3 years', and 'Last 5 years'), 'DISCIPLINE' (architecture (1)), 'SUBJECT TERMS' (gartengestaltung (1), landschaftsarchitektur (1), platzgestaltung (1)), 'LANGUAGE', and 'LIBRARY LOCATION'.

The main search results area shows '1 results sorted by relevance'. A checkbox option 'Add results beyond your library's collection' is present. The first result is highlighted with an orange box. It is a book titled 'Nextland: zeitgenössische Landschaftsarchitektur in Österreich = Nextland : contemporary landscape...' by Lička, Lilli, published in 2015. The holding information states 'Book: available. Main library. 62.51-1/1A. Lehrbuchsammlung (+2 More)'. A 'Preview' button is located below the holding information. To the right of the result, there are icons for linking, citation, and other actions.

An orange callout box with a pointer to the result title and holding information contains the text: 'Click on the title or holdings information to learn where you can find copies of the book in question.'

Check out the service page to see where you can find copies of the book in question.
