

News - May 2026

Reminder: Join us for the EPiC EduTalk & Café on Lifelong Learning & Employability on May 11

How can we meaningfully integrate lifelong learning and employability (LLL & E) into our teaching across disciplines? Join us on May 11, 1–2 pm CET, to explore these questions with colleagues from across the EPiCUR alliance. Representatives from five partner universities will share the "how and why" behind the new EPiCUR online module on LLL & E, offering inspiration for collaborative curriculum design and future-oriented teaching. We look forward to an open exchange and shared reflection!

Ready to Teach in Intercultural Contexts?

Further your competences in intercultural higher education contexts together with other educators from across EPiCUR.

Our free online workshop includes group-work, individual reflection and theoretical impulses. Together, we will identify chances and challenges of intercultural learning & teaching situations. We'll discuss concepts, approaches and tools relevant to intercultural collaboration and communication and focus on advantages of diversity to problem-solving.

Join us online on June 12, 9.00 am – 13.00 pm (CET).

→ Register here for the workshop.

EPiC TLC at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań

On April 20th, the EPiC TLC co-leads (Dorthe & Lisa) followed the invitation to introduce the EPiC TLC and its offers at the opening of AMU's Education Quality Week.

Along with an inspiring program, we visited with the newly opened AMU Centre for the Development of Educational Innovation (ORID - Ośrodek Rozwoju Innowacji Dydaktycznych UAM).

As usual, discussing opportunities for innovation in teaching development that arise through international collaboration proved to be exhilarating. A great thank you to our colleagues and friends at AMU, especially Urszula Kowalska-Nadolna, Konrad Dominas, Łukasz Różycki, Joanna Seniów and Rafał Witkowski.

Your innovative course contributions for the Autumn/Winter 2026 course catalogue!

Submit your course proposal by May 7.

At EPICUR, we believe that international, interdisciplinary, and student-centred learning play a key role in educating future change-makers.

Join the EPICUR adventure and submit your course proposal by May 7 so we'll jointly create an inspiring and diverse international course catalogue for Bachelor's and Master's students as well as Early Career Researchers.

Engage with students from various academic and cultural backgrounds, bringing fresh perspectives into your classroom and showcase your teaching within our network of nine European universities!

Missed the EPiC EduTalk & Cafe on Action-Based Learning?

On March 27, we had another inspirational introduction of teaching and learning formats followed by exchange and discussion. If you missed it and are curious to learn more about "Action-Based Learning and Teamwork: Building EU Green Competences through Pedagogy by
